

Mario Feil

Mario Feil is a director from Southern Germany with great love for good stories. His humble beginnings as a self-taught editor and DOP showed him that filmmaking is a fine craft, that can result in poignant, candid films that are both rooted in the real and at the same time imaginative.

Mario draws his inspiration from traveling and observing the world around him. Ground to a close-knit authenticity with his protagonists, Mario creates films of unforgettable visuality, films which often evoke an uncanny, yet intriguing reaction.
